- 5:06 pm DeborahMersino: I'm Deborah Mersino, a social media consultant to gifted communities & mother of two gifted girls (one 2E). I'm from Colorado! #gtchat
- 5:07 pm DeborahMersino: @DavidsonGifted - Let's start with the challenges. Can you and/or others share some of the challenges associated with AD. #gtchat
- 5:07 pm Begabung: Roya Klingner, head & founder of bavarian center for gifted & talented children, mum to a gifted law student #gtchat
- 5:08 pm laughingatchaos: Never knowing which "age" is in control at any given time. Intelligence/emotional/physical/chronological. #gtchat #gtchat

- 5:11 pm laughingatchaos: @aposseadesse66 And I usually strike out, too! ;) #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:11 pm earthami: Oh and in CO. #gtchat
- 5:11 pm DeborahMersino: @laughingatchaos - So understandable. It's so easy to forget that they're not as

- 5:11 pm aposseadesse66: Emotional challenge most difficult, I can deal with physical and intellectual much better. #gtchat
- 5:12 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat in our experience, trying to help those who work with #gifted students understand them through the lens of AD can be challenging
- 5:12 pm laughingatchaos: @DeborahMersino And often act younger than chronological age. Frustrating.#gtchat #gtchat
- 5:12 pm armadillosoft: Actually, this is today, now. RT @DeborahMersino: Thinking about joining #gtchat, but unsure? Give it a whirl! NOW & 7pm/EST
- 5:13 pm laughingatchaos: @DavidsonGifted So how do we teach the teachers that this is common in GT kids, when they don't see it? #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:13 pm DeborahMersino: @DavidsonGifted - Makes sense. In public schools, they can be labeled "troublemakers" and/or emphasis is on their weaknesses #gtchat
- 5:13 pm Begabungs: A big brain , a sensitive soul in a small body...not easy for gifted kids #gtchat
- 5:14 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat many #gifted kids with AD have difficulties with decision making b/c their life experience doesn't always support their knowledge
- 5:14 pm cybraryman1: @laughingatchaos Teachers need to understand asynchronous development & provide individualized ed plans #gtchat
- 5:14 pm DeborahMersino: @armadillosoft - Glad you're here! We're discussing challenges associated with Asynchronous Development (AD). #gtchat
- 5:15 pm laughingatchaos: RT @Begabungs: A big brain , a sensitive soul in a small body...not easy for gifted kids #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:15 pm DeborahMersino: @Begabungs - Great descriptor - "Big brain, sensitive soul." #gtchat
- 5:16 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 I agree. Short of smacking them with a "HELP ME" stick, how? ;) AD needs an IEP, but hard to get. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:16 pm DeborahMersino: Perfectionism also rears its ugly head at times and gifted kids feel ultra frustrated w/ poor handwriting, friendships, feedback. #gtchat
- 5:16 pm kidlutions: RT @DeborahMersino: @Begabungs - Great descriptor - "Big brain, sensitive soul." #gtchat >>That is SPOT ON!
- 5:16 pm DavidsonGifted: @laughingatchaos #gtchat this goes back to positive advocacy. Developing a strong partnership with educators to understand unique needs
- 5:16 pm MyGiftedLife: hi folks, @bfwriter checking in on behalf of MGL. I'm a psych student and grown-up gifted kid #gtchat
- 5:17 pm armadillosoft: @DeborahMersino Thanks for organizing. Seems to me that everyone develops asynchronously in some ways. #gtchat
- 5:17 pm cybraryman1: I feel there is not enough training for all teachers in dealing with gifted & special needs students and this has to be addressed. #gtchat
- 5:17 pm laughingatchaos: @DeborahMersino AGH! Perfectionism goes hand in hand with AD. They KNOW they can do it, but often body won't help. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:17 pm cybraryman1: @laughingatchaos I had to fight to get services for my daughter #gtchat
- 5:17 pm CathRiordan: Hi folks. Parent of 2 and advocate in Ireland. Hope I've caught up #gtchat
- 5:17 pm armadillosoft: #gtchat With my gifted kids, it's sometimes very frustrating for them to have to work at some things when other things come so easily.
- 5:17 pm laughingatchaos: @DavidsonGifted That's where we are now. Mtg. next week re: AD and accom. I agree, strong partnerships. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:17 pm DeborahMersino: @MyGiftedLife - Glad you're here! We're discussing challenges of asynchronous development (AD). #gtchat
- 5:18 pm aposseadesse66: Adults/teachers can also mistake maturity beyond their years for immaturity, especially in younger kids #gtchat

- 5:18 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 I have a teaching background; zero taught on GT issues in college. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:18 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 I'm fighting now. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:18 pm cybraryman1: What I found helpful were some parent advocates who worked with parents to get services for their children. #gtchat
- 5:19 pm DeborahMersino: @armadillosoft - I agree. AD just tends to be more exacerbated in gifted (the higher the intellect the greater the AD span can be). #gtchat
- 5:19 pm CathRiordan: Easy even for parents who do understand, to forget chrono age and expect too much emotional maturity at times #gtchat
- 5:19 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 I'm hoping to be that parent advocate person for others in the future. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:20 pm laughingatchaos: RT @CathRiordan: Easy even for parents who do understand, to forget chrono age and expect too much emotional maturity at times /TRUE #gtchat
- 5:20 pm cybraryman1: To help with socialization I encouraged my own children who were gifted to join youth groups & scouting #gtchat
- 5:20 pm laughingatchaos: So we need to know which age we're dealing with? Like mult. personalities sometimes. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:21 pm DeborahMersino: @CathRiordan - Agree wholeheartedly. Forget that my daughter is 9. One minute researching presidents, next she's being stubborn #gtchat
- 5:21 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat we work with educators through our Ed Guild: <http://bit.ly/9FqNMd> emphasize the positive aspects of #gifted kids and understand AD

- 5:21 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 Cub Scouts is saving us in many ways, like it did for my brother. A place to excel outside of school. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:21 pm DeborahMersino: @laughingatchaos - Great question. So we need to know which age we're dealing with? #gtchat
- 5:21 pm cybraryman1: @laughingatchaos That would be wonderful if you could help other parents who do not have the expertise needed. #gtchat
- 5:22 pm MyGiftedLife: @cybraryman1 and I saw OGTOC (?) was going to have a webinar on martial arts for gifted kids. can't recommend MAs enough. #gtchat
- 5:22 pm CathRiordan: Is the asynchrony most frustrating for the child in younger years? When can't physically do what they want #gtchat
- 5:22 pm laughingatchaos: @DeborahMersino Yes, & it's not like they're holding up a sign in the heat of the moment. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:22 pm laughingatchaos: @cybraryman1 Thanks. That's my hope...once I get my own sons on track. ;) #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:23 pm laughingatchaos: @MyGiftedLife Would LOVE MA for my 2e, but stubborn and won't return. #gtchat #gtchat
- 5:23 pm cybraryman1: @MyGiftedLife I tried MA with my children and unfortunately it did not work with them #gtchat
- 5:23 pm Begabung: We need to know which profil gifted child has before we start to support it.#gtchat
- 5:23 pm aposseadesse66: @CathRiordan Saw that a lot here, especially in writing and drawing. Picture in his head didn't match his output! #gtchat
- 5:24 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat it can be hard to deal with emotional asynchrony. This article has some great information: <http://bit.ly/bTqIKd>

laughingatchaos: @CathRiordan Perhaps my eye can mostly phys. do what he wants, but emotion falls apart when too overwhelmed. #gtchat #gtchat

DeborahMersino: @CathRiordan Another great point. Frustrations can be many-reading at 3rd grade level, fine-motor skills not developed to write well #gtchat laughingatchaos: @Begabung Profile? Or "age?" #gtchat #gtchat

Begabung: Remember that we have to treat the gifted kids very carefully like a diamond #gtchat

cybraryman1: @CathRiordan I feel asynchrony is most frustrating when children are older and are teased, scorned by their peers. #gtchat armadillosoft: @laughingatchaos It took us quite a few years and many tries to find physical activities that my daughter loves. But we did. #gtchat aposseadesse66: @DavidsonGifted I sent link to that article to my child's teacher, it says it all. #gtchat

earthami: @cybraryman1 Scouts has been wonderful for him. Baseball not so much. #gtchat

laughingatchaos: @earthami Yeah, our sign here; getting better at predicting it tho. #gtchat #gtchat

CathRiordan: Mine are teens. Struggle with need to fit in while having maturity to seeing behaviour of age peers as stupid! #gtchat laughingatchaos: RT @Begabung: Remember that we have to treat the gifted kids very carefully like a diamond #gtchat

5:26 pm

DeborahMersino: @DavidsonGifted - TY for link. I like the distinction b/w Emotional Intensities and Emotional Immaturity. Fine line...great piece. #gtchat cybraryman1: @earthami Group sports did not work but track did for my son and daughter (more individualized) #gtchat

MyGiftedLife: @cybraryman1 that doesn't stop when you grow up either. try being a mature college student. holy Moses! #gtchat

Begabung: I dont care about biological age because gifted kids have another age than normal kids #gtchat armadillosoft: @laughingatchaos #gtchat OTOH physical activities are not really social opportunities for her. They are instead opportunities for challenge.

DeborahMersino: @CathRiordan - Understand. My 9yo sometimes prefers to play primarily with the disabled children in her class or alone. Feels safer. #gtchat
