	DeborahMersino:	@prufrockpress - Glad you're here! #gtchat
	BrendonWalker:	Hi everyone. Sitting here for the 1st 15mins with my 9yo gifted son, Harry. Pls say hi to him :) #gtchat
	DeborahMersino:	As always, please take a moment to introduce yourself, your role (parent, teacher, advocate) and where you reside. #gtchat
	prufrockpress:	Hello, Harry. #gtchat
12:01 am	DeborahMersino:	@BrendonWalker - Hi Harry! Glad you're joining us for the first 15 minutes. #gtchat
12:01 am	BrendonWalker:	@prufrockpress Harry says hi :) #gtchat
12:01 am	prufrockpress:	I'm Joel McIntosh, the publisher at Prufrock Press, and the parent of two teenagers. #gtchat
12:02 am	jofrei:	@BrendonWalker #gtchat Hi Harry!!! Sprite asks how are the meerkats?
12:02 am	DeborahMersino:	I'm Deborah Mersino, moderator of $#gtchat$ , consultant to gifted communities and parent to two girls. I'm in CO.
12:02 am	DavidsonGifted:	Erik with the Davidson Institute www.DavidsonGifted.org. Family Consultant (Advocate) in our Young Scholars Program. I Live in Vegas #gtchat
12:03 am	DeborahMersino:	Let's start by talking about what works (and what doesn't) relative to disciplining #gifted children. Harry, feel free to share. #gtchat
12:03 am	BrendonWalker:	@jofrei Just brought a big smile to his face. Jooooo! The meerkats r going well & had a baby boy. Back 2 $#$ gtchat
12:03 am	prufrockpress:	I'm not terribly convinced that discipline for a gifted child, per se, is all that different from discipline with typical kids. #gtchat
12:03 am	DeborahMersino:	Hi @DavidsonGifted. As always, a pleasure to have you here, Erik. #gtchat
12:03 am	giftedmum:	Mary from Sydney here #gtchat hope 2 catch most of the chatgr8 topic
12:03 am	jofrei:	#gtchat Hi Jo Freitag from Gifted Resources in Melbourne Australia here
12:04 am	DeborahMersino:	@prufrockpress - I agree; yet, I do believe their observational skills and logical reasoning can make it a bit more challenging. #gtchat
12:05 am	TheMissBobbie:	Hi everyone. I am Bobbie from Arkansas - mom of #gifted #gtchat
12:05 am	BrendonWalker:	Harrys says being re-punshed for the same thing over & over again becoz he keeps doing it over & over again #gtchat
12:05 am	giftedmum:	#gtchat I think the social & emotional age of the #gifted child helps determine what best works whether self-imposed modulation or not
12:05 am	DeborahMersino:	From @NAGCGIFTED on Effort and Discipline: http://bit.ly/bATC2Z #gtchat
12:05 am	BrendonWalker:	I think the lesson there for me is that lessons won't sink in with a particular style of discipline #gtchat
12:05 am	DavidsonGifted:	Thanks! Good to be here Deborah. #gtchat. Thanks for hosting.
12:06 am	prufrockpress:	Right. @DeborahMersino I also think expectations can be different (for better or worse). #gtchat

12:06 am	jofrei:	#gtchat I found I needed to give good reason for rules etc but then they wanted to debate each rule in great detail
12:06 am	DeborahMersino:	RT @giftedmum: #gtchat I think the social & emotional age of the #gifted child helps determine what best works whether self-imposed modulation or not
12:06 am	The Miss Bobbie:	Most definitely consistency is key in discipline. Showing any inconsistency will cause my son to exploit systems #gtchat
12:07 am	DeborahMersino:	Well said. RT @prufrockpress Right. @DeborahMersino I also think expectations can be different (for better or worse). #gtchat
12:07 am	BrendonWalker:	@jofrei Jo. Harry was just saying earlier that sometimes he want's a better explanation of what he has done wrong #gtchat
12:07 am	DavidsonGifted:	@DeborahMersino Agreed. Empowering them to have a say in the discpline process (rather than imposing it upon them) helps. #gtchat
12:07 am	teachingwthsoul:	My tweets for the next hour will be devoted to #gtchat. Topic: What works, what doesn't and why (relative to disciplining gifted children).
12:07 am	DeborahMersino:	@TheMissBobbie - Agreed. They look for loopholes and our inconsistencies for sure. They also look at what we model. #gtchat.
12:07 am	giftedmum:	my 9yo #gtchat now has a much better grasp on the far reaching consequences & balances decisions on theseknows his boundaries now.it helps
12:08 am	jofrei:	RT @TheMissBobbie: Most definitely consistency is key in discipline. Showing any inconsistency will cause my son to exploit systems #gtchat
12:08 am	TheMissBobbie:	My son prefers having rewards to work towards instead of punishments for things left undone #gtchat
12:08 am	giftedmum:	RT @TheMissBobbie: Most definitely consistency is key in discipline. Showing any inconsistency will cause my son to exploit systems #gtchat
12:08 am	prufrockpress:	Carol Fertig has a whole chapter on appropriate expectations in her book, "Raising a Gifted Child." http://bit.ly/cnbsT3 #gtchat
12:08 am	giftedmum:	@TheMissBobbie oh yesthat is v true #gtchat
12:09 am	DeborahMersino:	@BrendonWalker Makes sense. Most research I reviewed today indicated #gifted need to understand the values/whys behind rules. #gtchat
12:09 am	BrendonWalker:	Harry says "sometimes I feel stupid when I do something wrong" #gtchat
12:09 am	DeborahMersino:	RT @prufrockpress: Carol Fertig has a whole chapter on appropriate expectations in her book, "Raising a Gifted Child." http://bit.ly/cnbsT3 #gtchat
12:09 am	teachingwthsoul:	Jumping in lateLisaEducator, former ES Principal/ Mom of two gifted boys #qtchat
12:10 am	prufrockpress:	Exactly @TheMissBobbie consistency and rewards are very effective (admittedly, the former is hard to stick with). #gtchat
12:10 am	DeborahMersino:	@BrendonWalker - And perfectionism rears its head. Makes complete sense. We all make mistakes, Harry! #gtchat
12:10 am	BrendonWalker:	Gifted kids are very emotionally sensitive when being "corrected" so it is important to get the balance right #gtchat
12:10 am	TheMissBobbie:	It works well once child reaches an age of reasoning to ask questions & let the child make reasoned choices for obedience. #gtchat
12:10 am	giftedmum:	@DeborahMersino isn't that what we do as adults. don't follow blindlywe need 2 know why 1st & the values #gtchat gifted kids r the same
12:11 am	giftedmum:	RT @DeborahMersino: @BrendonWalker Makes sense. Most research I reviewed today indicated #gifted need to understand the values/whys behind rules. #gtchat
12:11 am	TheMissBobbie:	I never said being consistent was easy, just necessary #gtchat

12:11 am	mygiftedgirl:	I'm in!!! lost track of time!! #gtchat
12:12 am	BrendonWalker:	Unfortunately we need to leave in a few minutes, but Harry has some parting words he would like to share #gtchat
12:12 am	DeborahMersino:	Consistency is challenging (don't I know!), but breeds necessary safety and security (which they crave). #gtchat
12:12 am	jofrei:	@TheMissBobbie Yes our children preferred that too positive reinforcement! #gtchat
12:12 am	DavidsonGifted:	Discipline does not always have to be negative. Empower kids with tools for self-discipline and it will be a positive experience #gtchat
12:13 am	DeborahMersino:	@mygiftedgirl - Welcome. We're discussing what works relative to discipline. #gtchat.

12:13 am	giftedmum:	kids with tools for self-discipline and it will be a positive experience #gtchat #gtchat I want 2 find the balance between discipline & doing what they are told & questioning my reasons & authority Not 2 blindly follow
12:13 am	TheMissBobbie:	@graingered He doesnt exploit me (anymore), it's more about exploiting school rules when inconsistencies exist #gtchat
12:14 am	BrendonWalker:	Harry says "gifted kids should be disciplined so that they learn not to do the wrong thing again" - Sorry we have to go. Bye now :) #gtchat
12:14 am	giftedmum:	RT @DavidsonGifted: Discipline does not always have to be negative. Empower kids with tools for self-discipline and it will be a positive experience #gtchat
12:14 am	teachingwthsoul:	My older gifted was also ADHD! Very challenging! #gtchat
12:14 am	DeborahMersino:	@DavidsonGifted - Agree. Helping them apply discipline (understanding values/the whys behind it) themselves makes all the difference #gtchat
12:14 am	mygiftedgirl:	@DeborahMersino I have nothing really here for some help!!! #gtchat
12:15 am	giftedmum:	@DavidsonGifted That is indeed the key to personal successes in lifeself-discipline & self-belief & respect of 1self & other #gtchat
12:15 am	The Miss Bobbie:	I have also learned that my son's diet directly affects his attitudes/behaviors #gtchat
