- 4:09 pm DeborahMersino: I've got additional resource links, which I'll post in a bit. Let's start by asking, "What are your favorite tests?" #gtchat
- 4:10 pm DeborahMersino: Also, what do you like about the various tests out there? Which ones are ideal for helping our #gifted & why? #gtchat
- 4:11 pm danyelwierson: #gtchat can personality type actually change, or is in pre-programmed?
- 4:11 pm pamfr: #gtchat As ENTP kid, I was glad to advocate for my adv curriculum. Much harder 4my ISTP. But if I help him, schl sees me as helicoptr parent.
- 4:11 pm jagkise: Aha from #MBTI group--none of us knew an INFP or INTP student who had been successful at college prep HS--no space for individuals #GTchat
- 4:11 pm DeborahMersino: @theboysstore @GaryBrannigan - Glad you're both with us! #gtchat
- 4:11 pm LisaDSB: #gtchat Former lawyer in Canada, now homeschooling parent to 2 EG+ boys, who are very different personality types.
- 4:12 pm jagkise: @DeborahMersino Tests...need to include hands-on or application to find gifted #MBTI sensing students #GTchat
- 4:13 pm theboysstore: I agree RT @jagkise: @DeborahMersino Tests...need to include hands-on or application to find gifted #MBTI sensing students #GTchat
- 4:14 pm DeborahMersino: Here's a favorite: <http://www.strengthsmovement.com/> via @JeniferFox. It's more focused on strengths than personality. Powerful. #gtchat
- 4:16 pm DeborahMersino: My other favorite would be Betts/Neihart's 6 different "types" of gifted. Allows edu. & parents to look at feelings, behav. & needs. #gtchat
- 4:16 pm DavidsonGifted: @danyelwierson I have seen personalities shift over time in young people. It is possible.Once adult, I think change is less likely #gtchat
- 4:16 pm DeborahMersino: MBTI practitioners: Can you tell us how/if MBTI can be administered for children/what ages? #gtchat
- 4:17 pm pamfr: #gtchat Personality can point toward strengths. Yet many have strengths outside of personality preferences.
- 4:17 pm jagkise: Jane Kise jagkise @pamfr They need to read "A Nation of Wimps" to discern between helicoptering (destructive) and advocacy #GTchat
- 4:17 pm DeborahMersino: RT @DavidsonGifted: @danyelwierson I have seen personalities shift over time in young people. It is possible.Once adult, I think change is less likely #gtchat
- 4:18 pm DeborahMersino: @pamfr - Excellent point. #gtchat
- 4:19 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - Hello from England where it's late afternoon. The agenda here is dominated by personalisation - we're suspicious of categorising
- 4:19 pm DeborahMersino: Personality is a result of life experience and genetic makeup. Betts/Neighart #gtchat
- 4:19 pm jagkise: @DeborahMersino There's the MMTIC, #MBTI grades 3-12. Or, use "The Developing Child" (Murphy) to think thru type, tchg, parenting #GTchat
- 4:20 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Welcome! So glad you joined us. I appreciate categorizing b/c it can allow us to be more empathetic/understanding. #gtchat
- 4:20 pm KimMoldofsky: RT @DeborahMersino: Personality is a result of life experience and genetic makeup. Betts/Neighart #gtchat
- 4:20 pm DeborahMersino: RT @jagkise: @DeborahMersino There's the MMTIC, #MBTI grades 3-12. Or, use "The Developing Child" (Murphy) to think thru type, tchg, parenting #GTchat
- 4:21 pm jagkise: If type is used properly, all types are great/can be gifted so all categories are positive #GTchat

Transcript for #gtchat - What the Hasht...

- 4:22 pm DeborahMersino: @jagkise - Are the MMTIC, MBTI or Murphy tests typically administered via a practitioner or can parents? Just curious. #gtchat
- 4:22 pm jagkise: We tell teachers "You use labels all the time. Gifted, slow, ADD, difficult...the type labels are positive reframing!!!" #GTchat
- 4:23 pm GaryBrannigan: We have built in temperament characteristics that predispose us to behave in particular ways cognitively, - emotionally, socially #gtchat
- 4:23 pm DeborahMersino: Question: Have any of you personally benefited from testing your child/students & using results to guide? Please share. #gtchat
- 4:23 pm danyelwierson: #gtchat is there a "basic" MMTIC that you can find online like the basic MBTI tests?
- 4:23 pm LisaDSB: #gtchat Many gifted are introverts -- does that make them less likely to seek outside help and accommodations in learning environments.
- 4:23 pm jagkise: @DeborahMersino Murphy (Developing Child) is a book...descriptions and great tips. MMTIC and #MBTI are practitioner-administered #GTchat
- 4:24 pm DeborahMersino: @jagkise - That's why I like @jeniferfox 's "Discover Your Child's Strengths." Talks about fundamental shift for education/parenting #gtchat
- 4:24 pm DeborahMersino: @jagkise - Thank you. #gtchat
- 4:24 pm jagkise: @LisaDSB #GTchat Depends. As an Introvert, both my son and I ignored dumb assignments, pursued own interests, thrived in college...
- 4:24 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - interesting re MBTI to consider interactions between different parent/child types and teacher/child types. A doctoral thesis!
- 4:25 pm DavidsonGifted: A good book (not necessarily gifted specific) to help parents understand child's personality: Nurture by Nature- <http://bit.ly/9GIccc> #gtchat
- 4:25 pm jagkise: @danyelwierson There are no validated free type inventories for children. You'd be better off reading "The Developing Child" Murphy #GTchat
- 4:26 pm DeborahMersino: From SENG: Research on Personality Types in Gifted Adolescents | <http://bit.ly/bvalHV> #gtchat
- 4:26 pm DeborahMersino: Research on Personality Types in Gifted Adolescents via SENG | <http://bit.ly/bvalHV> #gtchat
- 4:26 pm jagkise: @DeborahMersino Understg our son as INFP was crucial to guiding him as he disengaged from rote AP classes. Otherwise "lazy...???" #GTchat
- 4:27 pm GaryBrannigan: There are also lists of Character Strengths that cut across many dimensions - they can be used to describe children & adults #gtchat
- 4:27 pm danyelwierson: #gtchat my child went from a serious I to an amazing E when she found the right schooling environment and was with her peers everyday.
- 4:27 pm DavidsonGifted: @LisaDSB I think there could be truth to that for some. Also, does anyone know if introverts are more likely to be perfectionists? #gtchat
- 4:28 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Excellent point. Can't remember which link, but research discusses challenge of contrasting types bw stu/tchr #gtchat
- 4:28 pm BreannePH: RT @PamFR #gtchat Personality can point toward strengths. Yet many have strengths outside of personality preferences.
- 4:28 pm DeborahMersino: @danyelwierson - Wow. That's powerful. #gtchat
- 4:29 pm DavidsonGifted: @jagkise So true. Personality data can be incredibly useful when determining educational options. Mismatch can cause undue stress #gtchat
- 4:30 pm DeborahMersino: I think it's worth our while to discuss the 6 profiles of Betts/Neihart. 90 percent of gifted fall into Type I - Successful. #gtchat
- 4:30 pm jagkise: Type helps ID more kinds of giftedness and differences in needs of gifted children #GTchat Old studies were paper/pencil and missed Sensing
- 4:31 pm DeborahMersino: The reason Type I children succeed is because they have "learned the system." However they often become bored at school. #gtchat

- 4:31 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - I can offer personal testimony that I can also mimic E when the need arises - but it sure drains the batteries!
- 4:32 pm jagkise: #GTchat have to go catch a plane--look forward to reviewing this conversation on #MBTI personality and gifted students
- 4:32 pm DeborahMersino: Type II is "The Challenging." These children are divergently gifted/many school systems fail to identify. #gtchat
- 4:33 pm danyelwierson: #GiftedPhoenix #gtchat ditto on that
- 4:33 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Interesting point. Fox points out that even though we may have talents, it's not a strength if it's not enjoyable! #gtchat
- 4:33 pm LisaDSB: @DavidsonGifted Anecdotally, only one of 4 GTs in our family who is extravert is only one who is not debilitatingly perfectionistic! #GTchat
- 4:33 pm DeborahMersino: @jagkise - TY for joining us! Transcripts will be up later today. #gtchat
- 4:34 pm GaryBrannigan: This (Type II) is an interesting group: poorly understood by parents and teachers #gtchat
- 4:34 pm theboysstore: So sad! RT @DeborahMersino Type II is "The Challenging." These children are divergently gifted/many school systems fail to identify. #gtchat
- 4:35 pm DeborahMersino: Type III "The Underground" - Generally, these are middle school females (although some males) who want to hide giftedness. #gtchat
- 4:35 pm theboysstore: The issue I am having with my child :-) @DavidsonGifted Anecdotally, only 1 of 4 GTs in our family who ... perfectionistic! #GTchat
- 4:35 pm minikhailovna: Pretty confusing to me #gtchat
- 4:35 pm DavidsonGifted: @LisaDSB Interesting indeed. Thank you for sharing. #gtchat
- 4:36 pm GaryBrannigan: When I identified Type IIs to teachers, they we surprised, but began to think differently about them, ask questions about them #gtchat
- 4:36 pm DeborahMersino: Type IV - The Dropouts. They are angry w/adults & themselves b/c the system hasn't met their needs & they feel rejected. #gtchat
- 4:36 pm DeborahMersino: RT @GaryBrannigan: When I identified Type IIs to teachers, they we surprised, but began to think differently about them, ask questions about them #gtchat
- 4:37 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino I have also seen Type IIIs who have actively avoided, underachieved, dropped out! #gtchat
- 4:37 pm theboysstore: @GaryBrannigan * Would love to hear how you approached/identified these with the teachers #gtchat
- 4:37 pm DeborahMersino: Type V - The Double-Labeled - Physically or emotionally handicapped in some way or with LDs. Most are not id-ed by gifted prgrms. #gtchat
- 4:38 pm GaryBrannigan: @theboysstore Early research & test development on divergent thinking. #gtchat
- 4:39 pm DeborahMersino: Type VI - The Autonomous Learner. Few gifted children demonstrate this style at early age. Make system work for them. #gtchat
- 4:40 pm LisaDSB: #GTchat My extravert is also extremely divergent thinker -- not linear like the rest. Makes up for it with winning personality.
- 4:40 pm DeborahMersino: I bring up these types b/c I have heard Dr. Betts speak & have found the supporting research/tips quite intriguing/helpful. #gtchat
- 4:40 pm theboysstore: @GaryBrannigan * Thank you will use that in my county :-) #gtchat
- 4:41 pm LisaDSB: #GTchat - don't know lingo - what are Types I-IV? Link?
- 4:41 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - twitter silence while I downloaded the PDF. Have to say I find this 6-fold model a mite simplistic 20 years on...no offence GB!
- 4:41 pm theboysstore: Loving all the info so much I still do not know - got to run and meet community group - looking forward to reading recap #gtchat

- 4:41 pm GaryBrannigan: Psychologists are not usually trained in tests for GT, other than IQ. #gtchat
- 4:43 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - "Labeling" is an interesting issue, isn't it? While helpful, we also don't want to pigeonhole. #gtchat
- 4:43 pm pamfr: #gtchat: #Enneagram can help us notice coping strategies. IMO most kids r not 1 spec enn type, but use strategies of sev types.
- 4:43 pm DeborahMersino: @LisaDSB - You'll find more info on the 6 types in the article here (posted on @DavidsonGifted) bit.ly/bzpPxB #gtchat
- 4:44 pm DeborahMersino: @pamfr - Tell us more. Again, I haven't heard of Enneagrams being used on children? How do you do it? #gtchat
- 4:45 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - It's just that the students I encounter seem so much more complex! I've always seen G&T as a 'diverse and disparate group'.
- 4:45 pm DeborahMersino: @LisaDSB - Sorry, last link didn't look live. Here it is again: <http://bit.ly/bzpPxB> | #gtchat
- 4:46 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Certainly, many more intensities/overexcitabilities! #gtchat
- 4:47 pm GaryBrannigan: @GiftedPhoenix Good point about diversity. Even with divergent thinkers, some more fluent, some more original, some more creative #gtchat
- 4:47 pm DeborahMersino: I find it comforting to recognize person. similarities/differences (see similarities b/w husband & one dd). Allows for more empathy. #gtchat
- 4:48 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - yes but not necessarily in a 'gifted kids have problems' sort of way - just positively complex.@DeborahMersino
- 4:48 pm pamfr: #gtchat @DeborahMersino I dont use an Enn assessment w kids. Just notice! eg My 7ds often shows beh of Enn 4(longing, drama), 5(detach).
- 4:49 pm pamfr: #gtchat RT @AnnKlein1 @PamFR do what you think is best -- he's lucky ur involved! School teaches to norm; parents excel at refinement...
- 4:49 pm DeborahMersino: @pamfr - Got it. My oldest certainly shows signs of a 7 (mine). :-) #gtchat
- 4:49 pm GaryBrannigan: Bottom line for me is that we need to treat children as individuals and try to understand where they are coming from #gtchat
- 4:50 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Got it. #gtchat
- 4:50 pm DeborahMersino: RT @GaryBrannigan: Bottom line for me is that we need to treat children as individuals and try to understand where they are coming from #gtchat
- 4:52 pm DeborahMersino: @GaryBrannigan - Agreed! What I like about Fox's approach is it encourages more conversations about what energizes kids. #gtchat
- 4:52 pm DeborahMersino: Fox also notes that parents often predetermine/prescribe as opposed to truly listening & helping kids discern strengths themselves. #gtchat
- 4:53 pm LisaDSB: @DeborahMersino Thanks! #GTchat
- 4:54 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - key question is how practically we might reasonably expect teachers to respond to these differences in the classroom?
- 4:55 pm DeborahMersino: Can be dangerous 2 only note how genius s/he is at math, as opposed to what s/he likes or doesn't like about aspects of subjects. #gtchat
- 4:56 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Excellent question. Fox is working to start an edreform strengths-based movement in US. We've got a long road tho. #gtchat
- 4:56 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - is there any professional development in this territory offered in the States? Not that much here I'm aware of?
- 4:56 pm pamfr: #gtchat Re: #Enneagram, help kids see that those behaviors are verbs/choices. No need to "be" (fixate)(noun) on any set of behaviors.
- 4:56 pm DeborahMersino: The more parents know, the more they can share w/teachers & ask teachers for input/observations. More dialogue/listening needed imho #gtchat
- 4:56 pm OKAtypetalk: Great conversation going on right now about working with Gifted-Talented students - MRTI being mentioned often. Follow at #GTchat

- 4:57 pm DeborahMersino: Just a few minutes left. Final thoughts? Questions. Learns? #gtchat
- 4:57 pm DavidsonGifted: @DeborahMersino Good point. Try not to allow "gifted" to become THE defining personality of a bright child. There is much more to them #gtchat

- 5:01 pm DeborahMersino: @pamfr Excellent! The more kids can learn/understand about different strengths/person & observe them in themselves/others, the better #gtchat
