- 4:05 pm DeborahMersino: For those who haven't yet read @GiftedPhoenix 's blog post, I'll try to cover the main polarities throughout today's conversation. #gtchat
- 4:05 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat So all I was trying to do in the blog was to provide some reference points for discussion of different approaches to G&T worldwide
- 4:06 pm cybraryman1: RT @GiftedPhoenix: @halleyrebecca #gtchat my original blog post is here <http://bit.ly/diAVCH>
- 4:06 pm DeborahMersino: In addition, tho, I think advocacy challenges also stem from 1) lack of definition agreement 2) label issues 3) myths 4) disparities #gtchat
- 4:06 pm gsacademy: The discussions in @giftedphoenix 's blog is the basis of discussions that happen in schools on how best to approach #gifted edu #gtchat

- 4:06 pm jofrei: RT @DeborahMersino: From @GiftedPhoenix on the Polarities existing w/ GT Advocacy: <http://bit.ly/9huSFe> #gtchat #gifted
- 4:07 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - I think you did a good job identifying possible "big" themes. I don't necessarily agree w/ how each is depicted. #gtchat
- 4:07 pm DazzlId: Hi from Karen from Dublin Ireland, parent advocate #gtchat
- 4:07 pm halleyrebecca: @GiftedPhoenix Awesome, thank you! #gtchat
- 4:08 pm SeaburySchool: Seabury School, independent school for gifted children in Tacoma, WA. Participating as an entire faculty on the projector today. #gtchat
- 4:08 pm DeborahMersino: Let's start with Nature vs. Nurture. You hit the nail on the head with one of the biggest debates. #gtchat
- 4:08 pm SeaburySchool: (Before you ask where the children are, it's teacher in-service day :) ) #gtchat
- 4:08 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @gsacademy Yes - I think a lot of discussion that leads up to development of school policy statements goes over this ground.
- 4:09 pm FrazzId: RT @GiftedPhoenix: my original blog post is here <http://bit.ly/diAVCH> #gtchat
- 4:09 pm gsacademy: Many schools aren't really aware of the sophisticated debate & make decisions based on instinct and intuition along similar lines #gtchat
- 4:09 pm DeborahMersino: Is giftedness predominantly inherited? Somewhat, but wouldn't say it's based on academic ability. Would say we need ID standards. #gtchat
- 4:09 pm halleyrebecca: Staff and alum of @seaburyschool for gifted students in Tacoma, WA. Participating with full faculty as @seaburyschool today. #gtchat
- 4:09 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - Happy to have your suggestions on how you would frame the polarities - and whether you see them as such! #gtchat
- 4:10 pm cybraryman1: @GiftedPhoenix So much to digest in that wonderful blog post. We should take GT learning out of traditional school setting. #gtchat
- 4:10 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino #gtchat Nature v Nurture is at the core of much of the debate around giftedness and gifted education
- 4:10 pm DeborahMersino: For those who haven't read, @GiftedPhoenix says the opposite end of the spectrum believes giftedness can be achieved thru effort. #gtchat
- 4:11 pm DeborahMersino: What do you all think? {seems #twitter feed is a bit slow today} #gtchat
- 4:11 pm SeaburySchool: We have very, very few families where one sibling will qualify and the other will not. #gtchat @DeborahMersino Is giftedness inherited?
- 4:11 pm cybraryman1: I see relevant points on both ends of the spectrum #gtchat
- 4:12 pm jofrei: @DeborahMersino Nature vS Nurture sure nurture helps but baby tortoise reared by cheetah is just a faster tortoise #gtchat
- 4:12 pm FrazzId: I believe you need a leel of ability in order to achieve, but effort also needed. Without the ability, effort alone will not suffice #gtchat
- 4:12 pm DazzlId: I think excellence can be achieved through effort, certainly. #gtchat
- 4:12 pm gsacademy: @SeaburySchool but surely siblings will have both similar genetics and environment #gtchat
- 4:12 pm FrazzId: RT @jofrei: @DeborahMersino Nature vS Nurture sure nurture helps but baby tortoise reared by cheetah is just a faster tortoise #gtchat
- 4:13 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino Feed is good today in UK - much better than last week when there was a 7 minute delay #gtchat
- 4:13 pm DeborahMersino: Part of the problem: too often focus gets placed on "achievement/effort" and inherent GT learners' needs go unmet. Myths promulgate #gtchat
- 4:13 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat Some food for thought...Genetics and Intelligence http://www.dauidsongifted.org/db/Articles\_id\_10032.aspx

Transcript for #gtchat - What the Hasht...

- 4:13 pm SeaburySchool: Agreed. @gsacademy but surely siblings will have both similar genetics and environment #gtchat
- 4:14 pm cybraryman1: You can have the ability and talent but don't work to bring it out more. #gtchat
- 4:14 pm GiftedPhoenix: @SeaburySchool have you seen the studies that follow twins separated and brought up in different environments? #gtchat
- 4:14 pm DeborahMersino: I fall on the predominantly inherited camp, b/c I think it best serves IDED gifted student better in short/long-run. #gtchat
- 4:15 pm DeborahMersino: Having said that I fall into nature camp, I still believe we need to support effort in all. #gtchat
- 4:15 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat If you'll excuse me for saying, I do get the impression that Dweck is a bit of a lone voice at the nurture polarity extreme in US?
- 4:15 pm jofrei: Nature vs nurture problem with the ones who say only nurture and accuse parents of hot housing #gtchat
- 4:15 pm gsacademy: I work with many young people from challenging environment, with little to no academic encouragement, but they are clearly v #gifted #gtchat
- 4:16 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino Can you have it both ways? #gtchat
- 4:16 pm DeborahMersino: However, when we go down the nurture route, we often lose all ability to truly serve high IQ students appropriately. #gtchat
- 4:16 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - That's where I'd placed you (sorry) Have you read Carol Dweck and what do you think of that perspective? #gtchat
- 4:16 pm DazzlId: Nurturing every learner will see them reach their potential, but each one's potential is NOT the same #gtchat
- 4:17 pm DeborahMersino: Effort/nurturing needs to be a part of education. It's vital! Too often this leads 2 elimination of deemed "elitist" GT programs. #gtchat
- 4:17 pm GaryBrannigan: RT @DazzlId: Nurturing every learner will see them reach their potential, but each ones potential is NOT the same #gtchat
- 4:18 pm GiftedPhoenix: RT @DazzlId: Nurturing every learner will see them reach potential, but each one's potential is NOT the same. That's about where I am #gtchat
- 4:18 pm DeborahMersino: I love Dweck's Mindset, etc. However, in U.S., the focus has been on NCLB & achievement & nurturing of all. #gtchat
- 4:18 pm gsacademy: I come down on the 'bit of both' side, maybe nature for some & nurture for others. How we acknowledge & address need of both is key #gtchat
- 4:19 pm FrazzId: I think it's a mixture of both nature and nurture. You need both elements. Agree with @DazzlId, everyone's potential not the same #gtchat
- 4:19 pm jofrei: @DazzlId Well said!!! Nurturing every learner will see them reach their potential, but each one's potential is NOT the same #gtchat
- 4:19 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat I think we're agreed that the 'gifted is 100% inherited' position is much less tenable now than it was in the past?
- 4:19 pm DeborahMersino: I'll state it again. Advocacy fails b/c of strong nurture focus. It's not wrong, but doesn't serve our highest-potential students. #gtchat
- 4:20 pm gsacademy: @GiftedPhoenix yes #gtchat
- 4:20 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - mixture of both is right - the blog argues that everyone positions between the two poles on each of the three issues
- 4:21 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino I think the point about HIGHEST potential kids is critical to the discussion #gtchat
- 4:21 pm DeborahMersino: I want ALL students 2 achieve/Believe in power of nurture!! We've become afraid, tho, to stand up for those whose needs go unmet #gtchat
- 4:21 pm EdConti: RT @DazzlId: Nurturing every learner will see them reach their potential, but each one's potential is NOT the same #gtchat

Transcript for #gtchat - What the Hasht...

- 4:21 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @DeborahMersino Takes us on to the argument whether to focus on G&T learners or G&T education...
- 4:21 pm gsacademy: It's a continuum and everyone is somewhere along on that line #gtchat
- 4:21 pm GaryBrannigan: How do we define highest potential kids? #gtchat
- 4:22 pm halleyrebecca: @GiftedPhoenix Definitely. IQ is just potential. There has to be something else in the equation helping to achieve that potential. #gtchat
- 4:22 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Question: So what do you do with the 2-year-old who taught herself to read? Doesn't she need/deserve diff. support? #gtchat
- 4:22 pm GaryBrannigan: Where do we draw the line for highest potential kids #gtchat
- 4:22 pm cybraryman1: We cannot hold back & we must enable each GT student to reach his/her fullest potential #gtchat
- 4:22 pm GiftedPhoenix: RT @gsacademy: It's a continuum and everyone is somewhere along on that line #gtchat
- 4:23 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix: Disagree. I believe focus has to be on GT education. BUT you can't have GT ed w/o knowing WHO you're serving. #gtchat
- 4:23 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat The Davidson Institute defines profoundly gifted by using test score criteria <http://bit.ly/c0zMB4>. We also look at portfolio work.
- 4:23 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino Yes- not arguing against provision to meet needs - just defining where people stand philosophically on G&T education #gtchat
- 4:24 pm DeborahMersino: Cart before horse...causes all sorts of issues. I'm highly focused on GT education. Problem - who gets it/not enough individuals. #gtchat
- 4:24 pm FrazzIId: I am not an educator, but I like the idea behind the Whole School Cluster Grouping method in this book: <http://ht.ly/1Re8v> #gtchat
- 4:25 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @DeborahMersino aahhh I think that maybe the main philosophical difference between us - but we're still fighting for the same thing!
- 4:25 pm DeborahMersino: I'd argue tho that too often people get sidetracked in trying to serve all/nurture & wind up not serving individual needs of gifted. #gtchat
- 4:25 pm DeborahMersino: RT @DavidsonGifted: #gtchat The Davidson Institute defines profoundly gifted by using test score criteria <http://bit.ly/c0zMB4>. We also look at portfolio work.
- 4:25 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino Reading may not be good example. Some nongifted read early; some gifted struggle #gtchat
- 4:25 pm FrazzIId: With more learner centred, discovery based learning, I think many GT kids would do well in mainstream. But not all #gtchat
- 4:26 pm DeborahMersino: It goes back to the "Every child is gifted" argument. Yes, effort can be nurtured. However, not all children have same needs. #gtchat
- 4:26 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat Critical point is that G&T advocates are a broad church and we must accept the differences as we fight for a common cause...
- 4:27 pm DeborahMersino: @GaryBrannigan - My point is the 2-yo reader will likely be bored to tears in K, just as the 3-yo doing addition/sub. Still stands. #gtchat
- 4:27 pm gsacademy: Effective G&T education must be built into wider education infra-structure & designed to identify & meet the individual needs of all #gtchat
- 4:27 pm jofrei: RT @GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat Critical point is that G&T advocates are a broad church and we must accept the differences as we fight for a common cause...
- 4:27 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino Another good point: not all children have the same needs #gtchat
- 4:28 pm DeborahMersino: Common cause though is getting so watered down because of disparities. We can't even agree upon definitions. Part of BIG problem #gtchat
- 4:28 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @DeborahMersino I know where you're coming from and I agree, but I think needs are better served by focus on learning not individual

- 4:28 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino A lot of kids are bored to tears in K. Often lowest common denominator rules! #gtchat
- 4:28 pm FrazzIld: There are some needs/issues specific to GT, so teacher training/awareness important regardless of provision in classrooms #gtchat
- 4:29 pm DeborahMersino: We're so far off from Edreform in US. Still focused on NCLB tests. If we truly want #gifted learners to thrive, we must align. #gtchat
- 4:29 pm tecteach: RT @cybraryman1: ?We must believe that we are gifted for something, and that this thing, at whatever cost, must be attained? Marie Curie #gtchat
- 4:29 pm GiftedPhoenix: RT @gsacademy: Effective G&T education must be built into wider education & designed to identify & meet the individual needs of all #gtchat
- 4:30 pm DeborahMersino: We can't and won't get funding until we know who will be served. Can't fund EPGY or CTY if can't identify properly. #gtchat
- 4:30 pm jofrei: Even within gifted there is wide vatiety of level and needs Miraca Gross links level of giftedness to appropriate provisions #gtchat
- 4:31 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat First polarity has stirred some deeply-held views - just wait till we get on to the second!
- 4:31 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix Nice in theory, but it's what we've been trying 2 do 4 decades in US/NOT working. High-ability students needs = unmet #gtchat
- 4:32 pm GiftedPhoenix: @jofrei - absolutely - I do think it is important to see level of G&T as a key variable in all of this. Have much time for Miraca! #gtchat
- 4:32 pm DeborahMersino: GT funding has been cut in every state this year...will continue until we can properly align/state the cause w/conviction. #gtchat
- 4:32 pm jofrei: @DeborahMersino re "Every child is gifted" argument. Columbus Cheetah says All cheetahs are animals; not all animals are cheetahs #gtchat
- 4:32 pm GaryBrannigan: I don't think we have to feel we are gifted to lead a meaningful life. We do the best we can thru hard work and character #gtchat
- 4:32 pm FrazzIld: RT @jofrei: Within gifted there is wide variety of level and needs Miraca Gross links level of giftedness to appropriate provisions #gtchat
- 4:33 pm DeborahMersino: Moreover, often the only gifted student needs being met are at private schools and/or in certain zipcodes. #gtchat
- 4:34 pm DeborahMersino: @GaryBrannigan - That's not my point - AT ALL. Of course, everyone can lead powerful lives. Again, I'm talking offering a proper ed. #gtchat
- 4:35 pm DeborahMersino: Has anyone studied the research, know the loneliness/existential dread, the boredom, the wasted talent? Why not serve them? #gtchat
- 4:35 pm gsacademy: Sounds to me that we have a more universal acceptance of need for #gifted edu in UK, but still not sure what it should look like #gtchat
- 4:35 pm GaryBrannigan: @DeborahMersino I don't think I said it was your point. It's my point. #gtchat
- 4:36 pm DeborahMersino: I'm a big lover of @JeniferFox "Discover Your Child's Strengths?" Still have so many ppl thinking "gifted" = "achievement"/So wrong. #gtchat
- 4:37 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @DeborahMersino I hear you and I empathise, but I still think a focus on education is the best way forward, especially with Democrat
- 4:37 pm DeborahMersino: @GaryBrannigan - Sorry. I get impassioned. Too often, we hear this from school boards as they're wiping out critical GT programming. #gtchat
- 4:37 pm mommyperks: RT @DeborahMersino: @GaryBrannigan - Sorry. I get impassioned. Too often, we hear this from school boards as they're wiping out critical GT programming. #gtchat
- 4:38 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Explain how you can focus on ed, when you aren't able to differentiate for GT (which you can't do w/o IDing?). #gtchat
- 4:38 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat Do you want to go for Excellence versus Equity now? Maybe we need

- 4:39 pm gsacademy: @GiftedPhoenix I was going to say that #gtchat
- 4:39 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - absolutely agree the focus is ability not achievement #gtchat
- 4:39 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - I think we need an hour on each! #gtchat
- 4:40 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino Think there's a misunderstanding here. I support identification, but I put education before identification #gtchat
- 4:40 pm GaryBrannigan: Ed systems will probably always struggle to individualize ed . Even gt aside, there is great diversity in ability in reg ed classes #gtchat
- 4:40 pm DeborahMersino: Do you believe that "All learners are potentially GT?" B/c if so, we wouldn't need GT programs at all. Just achievement-based ed. #gtchat
- 4:40 pm gsacademy: Often, in busy schools, ability isn't acknowledged or even recognised until there is achievement #gtchat
- 4:41 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat I knew I might be stirring up a hornet's nest - but it's kind of cathartic to debate this!
- 4:41 pm DeborahMersino: Problem is - not all #gifted learners are "achievers" - common misunderstanding. Social-emotional needs go unmet. #gtchat
- 4:41 pm FrazzIld: Too true RT @gsacademy: Often, in busy schools, ability isnt acknowledged or even recognised until there is achievement #gtchat
- 4:41 pm DeborahMersino: RT @gsacademy: Often, in busy schools, ability isn't acknowledged or even recognised until there is achievement #gtchat
- 4:41 pm jofrei: @DeborahMersino Child's Strengths - like Multiple Intelligences - all have strengths but using MI is not a gifted program by itself #gtchat
- 4:42 pm FrazzIld: RT @DeborahMersino: Problem is, not all #gifted learners are "achievers" - common misunderstanding. Social-emotional needs go unmet. #gtchat
- 4:42 pm DazzIld: RT @gsacademy: Often, in busy schools, ability isnt acknowledged or even recognised until there is achievement / in Ireland too #gtchat
- 4:42 pm DavidsonGifted: #gtchat Genius Denied <http://www.geniusdenied.com/> is a website with resources as well as an enlightening, powerful book.
- 4:42 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino No that's not my position - I don't support the Dweck position. I'm in the middle but more towards her than you #gtchat
- 4:42 pm jofrei: RT @DavidsonGifted: #gtchat Genius Denied <http://www.geniusdenied.com/> is a website with resources as well as an enlightening, powerful book.

- 4:42 pm GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - Yes, critical for G&T identification to dig below achievement, otherwise G&T are all white middle class! #gtchat
- 4:43 pm jofrei: RT @DeborahMersino: Problem is - not all #gifted learners are "achievers" - common misunderstanding. Social-emotional needs go unmet. #gtchat
- 4:43 pm GaryBrannigan: Society dictates and reinforces what it acknowledges as important #gtchat
- 4:43 pm FrazzIld: RT @DavidsonGifted: Genius Denied <http://www.geniusdenied.com/> is a website with resources as well as enlightening, powerful book. #gtchat
- 4:43 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - Agree on Dweck...my challenge is how to get buy-in for GT programming in US when achievement myths continue. #gtchat
- 4:44 pm gsacademy: I think we all agree that all learners can achieve (of course), but only some have potential to 'highly' achieve #gtchat
- 4:44 pm DeborahMersino: RT @GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - Yes. critical for G&T identification to

- dig below achievement, otherwise G&T are all white middle class! #gtchat
- 4:44 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat I can tell you're frustrated Deborah and I don't mean to give you a hard time - really!
- 4:45 pm DeborahMersino: I wish I could pull up Delisle article that talks about how our lack of universal definition to support programming causes problems #gtchat
- 4:45 pm GaryBrannigan: @gsacademy I think we still need to define achieve. #gtchat
- 4:45 pm gsacademy: @GiftedPhoenix :- ) I thought you said it was cathartic #gtchat
- 4:46 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix No, I like debate and appreciate your dialogue - truly! I simply read our news daily & see the realities/disparities. #gtchat
- 4:46 pm gsacademy: RT @GiftedPhoenix: @DeborahMersino - Yes, critical for G&T identification to dig below achievement, otherwise G&T are all white middle class! #gtchat
- 4:46 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @DeborahMersino Buy-in critical and I don't know the US position clearly, but would advise climbing aboard other policy imperatives
- 4:46 pm SeaburySchool: Interesting #gifted debate in Tacoma, WA public schools right now. Realizing gifted qual needs to dig deeper than test scores #gtchat
- 4:47 pm SeaburySchool: Link to article about Tacoma, WA public schools gifted program problems right now: <http://tinyurl.com/2w8t2zt> #gtchat
- 4:47 pm DeborahMersino: I support both ends. From Special Ed &ESL students to to Profoundly gifted. My focus is ensuring high-ability students get right ed. #gtchat
- 4:47 pm gsacademy: @GaryBrannigan Achievement is relative to an individuals peers, i.e. others in their year at their school #gtchat
- 4:48 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat ...so in US, what are the policy priorities currently that could give you some purchase - teacher quality, innovation, standards?
- 4:48 pm FrazzIld: More to being gifted than just academic ability, which is why support needs to meet these needs too. Is a distinct SEN #gtchat
- 4:48 pm SeaburySchool: It's exciting for us as gifted advocates to see our public schools taking a deeper look at this issue #gtchat
- 4:49 pm DeborahMersino: My particular passion is GT ed; it's close to my heart & I see it disintegrating right&left b/c of everyone's desires to nurture all #gtchat
- 4:49 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - and I SO wanted to get stuck into excellence v equity - that's even more controversial territory!
- 4:49 pm SeaburySchool: We are up against a huge anti-intellectual bias in our culture. To say some kids are smarter than others is to be "elitist" #gtchat
- 4:49 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat I think treating G&T as a special need has both advantages and disadvantages - you kinda need to argue both sides....
- 4:49 pm gsacademy: @DeborahMersino what about social mobility, isn't that a hot policy topic in US? Which would bring us to the next polarity #gtchat
- 4:50 pm DeborahMersino: @GiftedPhoenix - We know how to serve #gifted, have the curriculum, prof GT educators, research...not enough FUNDING/buy-in. #gtchat
- 4:51 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat - It cannot only be a matter of money - I would argue the only solution is to make G&T integral to daily practice in schools
- 4:51 pm DeborahMersino: We do need to continue to work on closing GT achievement gaps. Again, funding needed to do so. #gtchat
- 4:52 pm FrazzIld: @GiftedPhoenix What are the disadvantages of seeing GT as a special educational need? Surely not outweighed by advantages? #gtchat
- 4:52 pm SeaburySchool: Could be losing a large group of future leaders because of cultural need to hide/downplay intelligence. #gtchat
- 4:52 pm DeborahMersino: Feel like I'm dominating to much...what do the rest of you think. We've got 8 minutes left...I want to hear! #gtchat

- 4:53 pm GiftedPhoenix: #gtchat @gsacademy Have seen studies recently showing we and US share poor social mobility - especially progression to best universities
- 4:53 pm GaryBrannigan: I think we have moved away from tracking, but when I was in sch, there were many levels. #gtchat

- 4:54 pm gsacademy: @GiftedPhoenix agree, but demanding curriculum & under-resourced schools, curriculum choices are made everyday. Funding is crucial #gtchat
- 4:54 pm KTVee: I will focus on one thing next year: Is every kid challenged every day? If I can't say yes, I'm not doing my job. #gtchat
- 4:54 pm gsacademy: RT @SeaburySchool: Could be losing a large group of future leaders because of cultural need to hide/downplay intelligence. #gtchat
- 4:54 pm DeborahMersino: RT @gsacademy: @GiftedPhoenix agree, but demanding curriculum & under-resourced schools, curriculum choices are made everyday. Funding is crucial #gtchat

- 4:59 pm gsacademy: I know it's off topic & i've said it before, but corporate sector needs to step up and take more of a role supporting GT education #gtchat
- 4:59 pm KTVee: final thought: it's difficult 2 b sure every kid gets what they need, but it's really ONLY option for grt school #gtchat
- 4:59 pm Dazzld: Identification is key, then full-time gifted ed schools with specialist teachers #gtchat
- 5:00 pm DeborahMersino: @KTVee - Yes, lack of awareness, proliferation of myths, fears of "elitism"

when in fact it's simply a matter of meeting the needs. #gtchat

- 5:00 pm DeborahMersino: RT @gsacademy: I know it's off topic & i've said it before, but corporate sector needs to step up and take more of a role supporting GT education #gtchat
