- 4:22 pm FrazzIld: RT @jofrei: @chrstinef How do you deal with teachers relatives etc calling intense emotions "immature"? Good Q #gtchat
- 4:22 pm chrstinef: @MSTA Important for educators to understand the function of that behavior. What was the child trying to communicate when they blew #gtchat
- 4:22 pm Susannewith3: @MaryStGeorge Thats a good idea. my 6 year old especially needs that. #gtchat

- 4:24 pm MSTA: @chrstinef doesn't that emphasize to the rest of the class that, that kind of behavior equals attention? #gtchat
- 4:24 pm chrstinef: @BCGifted I have a friend who got my book for all the teachers :D #gtchat

- 4:37 pm MSTA: what should you do if you as a parent are coaching solutions and the regular classroom teacher isn't allowing those methods? #gtchat
- 4:37 pm chrstinef: @MaryStGeorge HA! Balanced diet - love that! #gtchat
- 4:37 pm chrstinef: I am MOST proud of it. I've interviewed 100s and 100s of gt kids for the book. #gtchat
- 4:37 pm DeborahMersino: What a gift to give @chrstinef 's book, Emotional Intensity as a gift to teachers/principals/admin! #gtchat
- 4:37 pm BCGiftd: #gtchat Also, now, when they get worked up, I tell them they need to calm down b4 we can talk, and I breathe with them. It helps too.

4:39 pm 0Quest0: @MSTA #gtchat yes - a big issue is trying to get school to see where the prob is and how to solve it without leaving child in limbo waiting

4:39 pm AudreyFG: Thank you @DeborahMersino! Great to be here! #gtchat

4:39 pm AldridgeDuff: @ADDhousewife What do you mean, "behind" them? #gtchat

4:40 pm chrstinef: @asynchschrfsnd Thanks! #gtchat

4:40 pm PJ_Kaiser: @chrstinef can u expand a bit on "settling limits" - u mean what's allowed and what's not? #gtchat

4:41 pm chrstinef: @PJ_Kaiser yes. Boundaries. Acceptable v nonacceptable behavior. I talk a lot about how to tell if your household is running well #gtchat

4:41 pm PJ_Kaiser: @BCGifted yes, that is often necessary for us. but i also want to help them learn to manage their intensities too #gtchat

4:41 pm 0Quest0: RT @MSTA and convincing the teacher/school that the gt child is not the problem. <- EXACTLY! #gtchat

4:42 pm chrstinef: @PJ_Kaiser If the basic foundation is there, the rest goes more smoothly #gtchat

4:42 pm DeborahMersino: @PJ_Kaiser @chrstinef - Re limits...yes, can you discuss a bit? How rigid/flexible? #gtchat

4:42 pm BCGifted: @gifts2love #gtchat Exactly! It's like finding a diamond in the coal. Worth digging for.

4:42 pm AldridgeDuff: I think moving gifted kids to alternate schooling enviros_even homeschooling_is just geographic cure. Kid is still gifted/hurting. #gtchat

4:42 pm chrstinef: I think the key to all of this is really teaching our GT kids that the intensity is a part of who they are. #gtchat

4:42 pm chrstinef: It doesn't mean they are crazy. #gtchat

4:43 pm gifts2love: @PJ_Kaiser #gtchat Limit - "if ur frustrated, u can hit a pillow, but NEVER hit your brother. You will always get in trouble for that."

4:43 pm ADDhousewife: @AldridgeDuff the kids are reaching milestones at different times. I feel I don't know what average or normal looks like #gtchat

4:43 pm mygiftedgirl: I have to run. Will see if I can keep up via Blackberry. Grateful for this boost I get from #gtchat @chrstinef @DeborahMersino and all.

- 4:43 pm DeborahMersino: @chrstinef - You said that the toughest part was setting up the coaching beforehand? Can you give us a sneak peek? #gtchat

- 4:48 pm DeborahMersino: @chrstinef - Can you give an example of the "How to think?" #gtchat

- 4:48 pm chrstinef: @DeborahMersino And so rewarding to see. My oldest is a lot like one of the examples in the book. LOVE watching her talk herself down #gtchat

chrstinef: @DeborahMersino Love that #gtchat

ljconrad: RT @Frazzlld: Difficult when 1 is 2E and need lots of support, if other is more capable. Easy for one to feel unseen #gtchat

chrstinef: @Frazzlld So true #gtchat

Susannewith3: @Ron_Peck yes yes yes. Playing up strengths and getting each kid to acknowledge the others strengths is key. #gtchat

DeborahMersino: @Frazzlld I hear you re "feeling unseen"...big issue/so tricky for parents. #gtchat

giaimojosephine: One of my teachers once said that there is no (spiritual) competition in a garden. The rose does not compare itself to a lily. #gtchat

Ron_Peck: @ljconrad I applaud you on the effort. Sometimes it helps to get them where they can look in the mirror. Confront their specialness! #gtchat

chrstinef: @giaimojosephine beautiful analogy #gtchat

Frazzlld: @Ron_Peck Yes, but dropping out of each, one by one, due to lack of self confidence :- (#gtchat

DeborahMersino: Schader said it's vital to identify what interests a child/teen (not just gifted areas) and support/foster curiosity/learning. #gtchat

Susannewith3: @giaimojosephine I like that imagery very much. #gtchat

laughingatchaos: Made it! I'm Jen in CO, visiting Chicago. Mom 2 2 GT boys. Blogger/advocate/wannabe writer. Sib relations good, but can be tense. #gtchat

GiftedJourney: @Frazzlld Hard to give time/attn to child w/o greater apparent needs & intensities, esp when the parent (or teacher) is exhausted #gtchat

DeborahMersino: Remembering that sibling rivalry is NORMAL is also something parents need to be reminded of (know I do). #gtchat

Susannewith3: @DeborahMersino yes! Doing that unlocks their love of learning anyway. Not just helps them identify themselves. #gtchat chrstinef: @laughingatchaos Hi Jen! I just got here too. #gtchat

ljconrad: @laughingatchaos Yea! You get extra effort award tonight! #gtchat

chrstinef: RT @Susannewith3: @GiftedJourney everything is so much easier when you aren't tired isn't it?--> So so true! #gtchat

Ron_Peck: @Frazzlld Important for you to help them find who they are and want to be. Parents often times play counselor. Tis what we must do. #gtchat

- 11:18 pm giaimojosephine: Q2 When I was growing up, I don't remember any sibling rivalry. Later, my sister told me that teachers held me up as an example. #gtchat

- 11:19 pm jofrei: @DeborahMersino re sibling rivalry is NORMAL - it is also helpful learning debate and give/take As an only child I missed that #gtchat
- 11:19 pm laughingatchaos: @chrstinef I am! :) Have to read transcript, hubby may learn about HIMSELF! lol #gtchat
- 11:19 pm DeborahMersino: Families that valued communication, offered free/down time for play, educational opport for exploration = healthier (Schader) #gtchat
- 11:19 pm Susannewith3: @giaimojosephine Teachers did that to me too. My sister was well behaved...I was gifted and explosive (emotionally intense) sigh. #gtchat
- 11:19 pm laughingatchaos: Growing up, my bro & I were so different! He's obviously 2e, I'm not. I see the same thing w/my boys. & I know how the non-2e feels #gtchat
- 11:19 pm Ron_Peck: Rivalry is a good thing too! Just use it so that everyone benefits from "friendly" competition and nothing more. #gtchat
- 11:20 pm chrstinef: @DeborahMersino oh yes...that is the foundation! Makes the EI thing easier too #gtchat
- 11:20 pm ljconrad: @laughingatchaos Wish there was a You Tube video! Would love to hear you (honestly)! :) #gtchat
- 11:20 pm DeborahMersino: The Davidson article also discusses distinctions b/w two close-aged, same-gender children (@mygiftedgirl). #gtchat
- 11:20 pm Susannewith3: @DeborahMersino makes sense. discussing issues that haven't become issues has been key here. Talking it out=prevention for me. #gtchat
- 11:21 pm Susannewith3: @DeborahMersino I wonder about the same-gender, mine are paired (boy/girl/boy/girl) so I'm thinking I lucked out a bit. #gtchat
- 11:21 pm DeborahMersino: DITD article also covers Following a very talented oldest child, saying its difficult to convince younger children of strengths. #gtchat
- 11:21 pm giaimojosephine: Q2 There may have been some "sibling" rivalry between my parents, though! They would bake apple pies and ask the children to vote. #gtchat
- 11:21 pm GiftedJourney: Q2 No physical fighting. Bickering. Nit-picking. I start singing the Simpsons' "Itchy and Scratchy" theme song and they know... #gtchat
- 11:21 pm DeborahMersino: Says younger may resort to underachievement for attention seeking. Become route to family recognition. wow. #gtchat
- 11:22 pm ljconrad: @Ron_Peck got a spare room? Think I'll send one of mine to your house. Maybe they will listen to you! lol #gtchat
- 11:22 pm beccasara: I have identical twins so they are on the same level in everything - but one tends to test better than the other. that is tricky. #gtchat
- 11:22 pm Susannewith3: @giaimojosephine hahahaha well...at least there was tons of apple pie! #gtchat
- 11:22 pm chrstinef: @Susannewith3 girl drama intensifies when siblings close in age - competition for affection/spotlight thing #gtchat
- 11:22 pm chrstinef: @DeborahMersino Absolutely! #gtchat
- 11:22 pm FrazzIId: @DeborahMersino I'll have to read it then! #gtchat
- 11:22 pm laughingatchaos: @ljconrad Aw, thanks hon! I used to be really good, now not so much. #gtchat
- 11:23 pm FrazzIId: RT @DeborahMersino: ..younger may resort to underachievement for attention seeking. Become route to family recognition. wow. #gtchat

- 11:24 pm chrstinef: @DeborahMersino the idea is to not let it get that far, when possible #gtchat
- 11:24 pm Ron_Peck: @ljconrad lol, well, if I had room, they'd be welcome. The only protest would be from the dogs. 8) #gtchat
- 11:24 pm laughingatchaos: Suppose I've been lucky here; my boys are BFFs. It's the playing/roughhousing that gets over the top. #gtchat
- 11:24 pm beccasara: @DeborahMersino what about when 1 qualifies for a program/class and 1 doesn't? what do you do? not send either? #gtchat

- 11:27 pm chrstinef: @laughingatchaos seems appropriate for during crisis. Before and after is where you can tweak things #gtchat
- 11:27 pm laughingatchaos: @Ron_Peck I was often that person when I taught private flute lessons. More kids need that kind of outside mentorship. #gtchat

- 11:27 pm beccasara: @chrstinef it really is. one only missed by abt 2 questions - so we opted out of the whole thing rather than create that rivalry. #gtchat
- 11:27 pm ljconrad: @Ron_Peck Not to be contrary, but tried that several times once they got to hs. At 19 and 17 it just seems like a lost cause. #gtchat
